On there you will be able to see your access you have for the different programs available. I suggest that you look through them and also decide which ones you would like to access. Once you have picked your programs that you would like to access, the last thing you need to add is the payment method on the next step. Lastly, one final step that you will want to complete is the one that allows you to export codes. In addition to all the other bonuses you will receive when you sign up for an Adobe membership.
